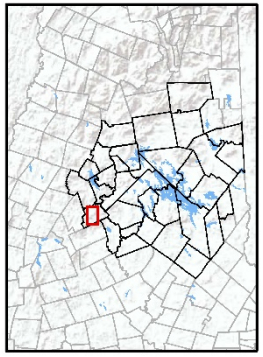
PAGE HILL & GLORY HILL CONSERVATION AREA

Welcome to the Page Hill and Glory Hill Conservation Area in Hill, New Hampshire. Page Hill was acquired by the Lakes Region Conservation Trust in 1997, and Glory Hill was acquired in 2005. In 2010, Lakes Region Conservation Trust approached the New England Mountain Bike Association (NEMBA) to create a trail network on the properties. Over three years later, and 1,200 volunteer hours, there is now a trail system of over seven miles between Page Hill and Glory Hill. New England Mountain Bike Association hopes to have at least ten to fifteen miles of bike trails for all to enjoy in the future.

Page Hill can be a challenging place to bike, however, there are trails for beginners to advanced riders. Near Franklin Falls has beginner trails, and most of Page Hill has intermediate to advanced trails. Most of the trails are great to ride in either direction. The most technical trail, The Dude Abides, offers beautiful views at the highest point of the Property. In addition to biking trails, The Andover Club also has a memorandum of understanding with the Lakes Region Conservation Trust to allow use of snowmobiling on the property.



The trailhead is located on Murray Hill Rd., in Hill, New Hampshire. The trails here are meant for mountain biking, and hiking is not recommended.

Lakes Region Conservation Trust

The Lakes Region Conservation Trust was founded in 1979 to conserve the natural heritage of New Hampshire's Lakes Region. Our conservation and stewardship work preserves community character, conserves critical wildlife habitat and diverse ecosystems, protects natural landmarks and scenic landscapes, and provides outdoor recreation opportunities for people of all ages.

Together with our dedicated community of supporters, we have conserved more than 130 properties totaling nearly 24,000 acres. These conserved lands encompass many of the special places that define this unique and spectacular part of New England, affording everyone abundant opportunities to explore and connect with the natural world and establishing a legacy of conservation for future generations.
